

The story & Journey of TUVUKE

By: TUVUKE Initiative

The story of TUVUKE Initiative is a detailed narrative about the efforts of 15 civil society organizations working towards a sustainable peace in Kenya. TUVUKE (Swahili for “Let us cross over”) is a countrywide initiative with specific focus on positive transformation of institutions of governance. The Initiative premise was that by making a peaceful transition in the general elections, Kenya would become a better nation for all citizens. The book captures some of the work in challenging patriarchy, advocating for women’s leadership, youth participation in electoral process and a responsible media. Therefore, the book gives a detailed account of interventions that contributed towards achieving peaceful elections in 2013.

TUVUKE Initiative continues to engage the media, natural resources dependent communities, women and youth.
